

Session 1:

Whole School Engagement Strategies for Reducing Student Absenteeism

Welcome!

Cecelia Leong
Vice President of Programs

Sue Fothergill
Director of Strategic Programming

Three E-Learning Sessions

During these sessions, participants will learn how to work as a team to take a multi-tiered approach to improve attendance in their schools:

- ❖ Session 1 — Whole School Engagement Strategies for Reducing Student Absenteeism, Tuesday, February 16
- ❖ Session 2 — Early Intervention Strategies: Monitoring and Identifying Students in Need of Support during Distance Learning, Tuesday, March 2
- ❖ Session 3 — Partnerships that Make a Difference: Coordinated Systems Strategies, Tuesday, March 9

Learning Goals for Session 1

Participants will:

- Be able to measure attendance and participation in a variety of learning settings
- Be introduced to the framework of multi-tiered strategies that moves schools towards prevention and early intervention
- Draw on a variety of high leverage, whole school strategies to create a positive school climate and strong relationships with students and families that prevent absenteeism

Getting Started: Introductions

Use the Chat and share:

- ✓ Your name and role
- ✓ Your school and district
- ✓ The name of one person who inspired you to attend and learn, and a short sentence about how they motivated you

What is the relationship between absences and equity?

Absenteeism is a leading indicator and a cause of educational inequity

Chronic Absence Measures Lost Opportunity To Learn

Chronic absence is missing so much school for any reason that a student is academically at risk. Chronic absence is defined as missing 10 percent or more of school for any reason.

Chronic absence is different from truancy (unexcused absences only) or average daily attendance (how many students show up to school each day).

Expanding How to Measure the Opportunity to Learn

Additional Metrics Defined

Contact

Schools have working contact and back up information for each enrolled student and their family.

Connectivity & Access

Students, families and staff have access to technology (computer, software and internet access) and other materials to support learning at home.

Relationships

Students and families feel connected, supported and engaged in reciprocal, problem-solving relationships.

Participation/ Attendance

The extent to which students show up and complete learning activities within and across different modes of instruction.

Poll

What attendance measures does your school / district track?

- Daily attendance
- Contact information
- Connectivity
- Participation
- An existing relationship
- Daily attendance differentiated between in-person or remote
- None of the above
- Other (please post in the chat)

Ideally, we would monitor across learning opportunities and differentiate in-person from remote (synchronous & asynchronous)

1. Are the students participating in all of the opportunities to learn?
2. If not, why not?
3. How would you find out for sure?

Absenteeism is a Sign that Positive Conditions for Learning are Missing, Whether Classes are In Person, Distance or Blended

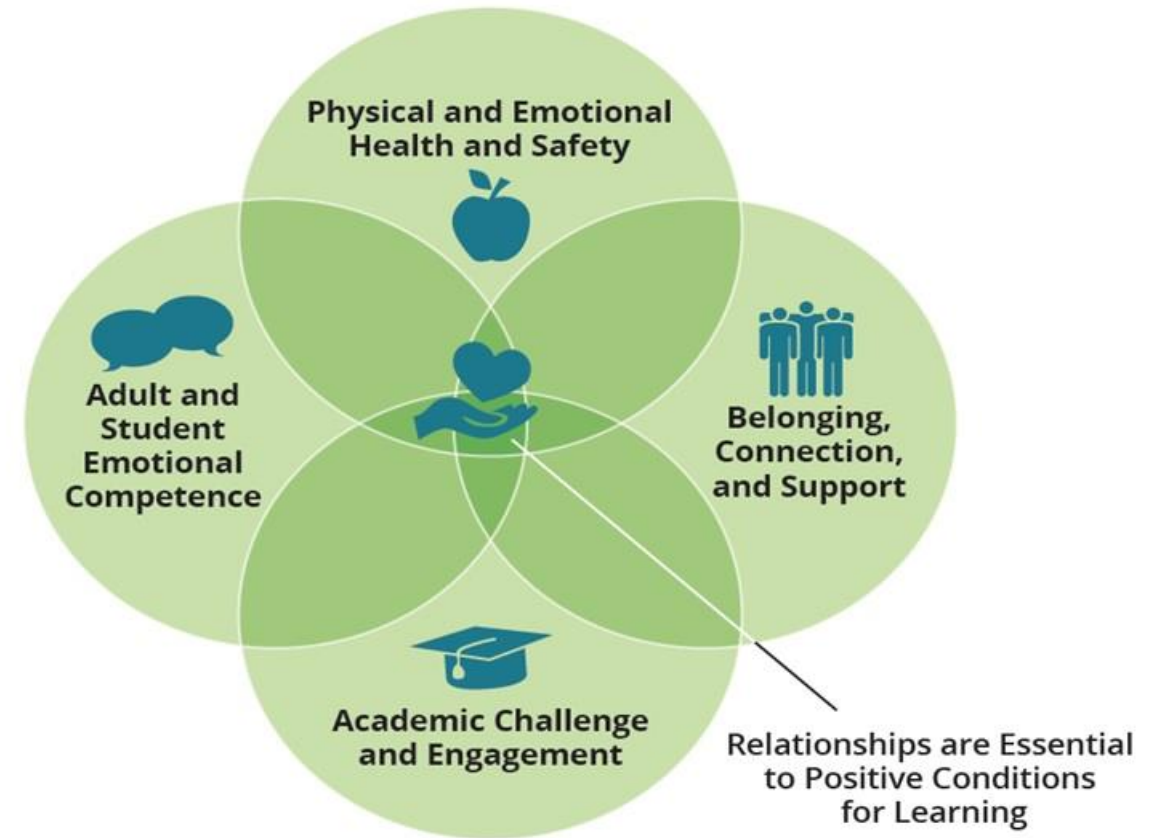

Let's Chat!

2020 was a year like no other.

How have the conditions for learning changed for students due to the events of the past year?

Building Your Multi-Tiered System of Support

When Tackling Absenteeism, Begin with Whole School and Prevention Strategies

Foundational Supports are Building Blocks of Schools that Promote Attendance

Physically healthy learning environment	Enrichment activities and clubs	Positive relationships	Support for families to facilitate learning at home
Access to tech equipment and connectivity	Access to Learning Supports	Routines, rituals and celebrations	A culture of continuous improvement
Welcoming, safe, trauma-informed school climate	Home rooms and/or Advisory	A published schedule of classes	Active engagement of families in planning

Mental health and well-being

Understand how to assess and improve social-emotional health.

COVID-19 prevention

Make changes that help create a safe teaching and learning environment when school buildings reopen.

Social drivers of health

Manage nonmedical health needs and provide resources to address food security, economic opportunity, housing, transportation, and more.

Physical activity and physical education

Implement strategies to safely provide physical education and activities.

Staff and teacher well-being

Address health considerations specific to adults working in your schools.

Schoolwide Strategies for Prevention

Three High Leverage Strategies

Schoolwide Strategies for Prevention

1. Warm and welcoming School Climate
2. Positive Relationships with Families and Students
3. Clear expectations and communication about attendance

1. Warm and Welcoming School Climate

Questions for Applying the Four Elements of School Climate to Hybrid Learning

- Environment: How has our school promoted engaging learning at home? What has our school done to ensure students have access to connectivity?
- Safety: What steps has our school taken to support safe and healthy learning at home?
- Teaching: Do teachers have access to attendance information and outreach protocols for students who miss too much school?
- Relationships: Does every student and family have at least one documented supportive relationship with a member of the school staff?

Small Group Discussion

How is our school climate different during Covid-19?

Be sure to cover the four elements in your group:

- ✓ Environment
- ✓ Safety
- ✓ Teaching and Learning
- ✓ Relationships

Climate Element	Examples
Relationships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Virtual community building opportunities for students and families that create belonging and connection • Expanded learning opportunities • Enrichment activities and clubs • Advisories and Homeroom
Teaching & Learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Attendance is taken in a caring manner, whether in person or online • Fun Morning Greetings (classroom and schoolwide) • Sharing activities, such as show and tell, scavenger hunts, dress up • Attendance reinforced in interactions with students and families • Student success plans developed with families and students • Access to data about student attendance and participation with protocols for differentiated support
Environment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • School backgrounds for students to choose from • Optional screen time, with proof of participation • Thoughtful pairing of students in breakout • Resources for at-home learning e.g., books, learning collateral (crayons, markers, paper), projects based on likely household items • Access to virtual learning (computer, internet, broadband and capacity)
Safety	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Individual wellness check and connectivity assessments • Monitor lack of participation and attendance for outreach and support • Provide a point of contact for requests for support

Let's Chat!

Each team shares 1-2 key observations from their discussion about what has changed about their climate and culture.

Adapting Routines and Rituals to Encourage Attendance and Participation

Classroom:

- ✓ Teach and reinforce attendance and behavior expectations (e.g. use PBIS 5:1 positive statements)

Daily:

- ✓ Take attendance in a caring manner
- ✓ Recognize when a student was absent and welcome him/her back
- ✓ Check-ins (e.g. mood meter)

Weekly:

- ✓ Friendship Fridays or Wellness Wednesdays
- ✓ Virtual clubs

School:

Daily:

- ✓ Morning Messages / Texts

Weekly:

- ✓ Principal pop-ins to say a few positive words
- ✓ Acknowledge good and improved attendance
- ✓ Virtual school assemblies or grade-level gatherings for fun activities or engaging programming

2. Positive Relationships with Students & Families

Questions for Promoting Positive Relationships

Why are they important?

- ❖ When students and families have meaningful relationships with school staff they are more likely to engage in school.

What are the equity implications?

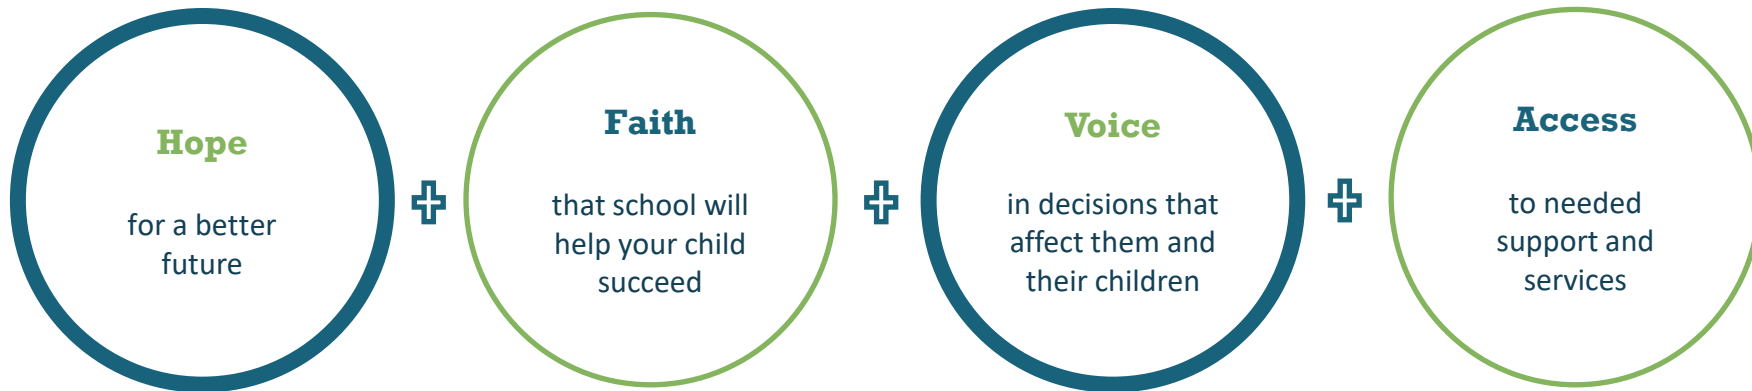

- ❖ Students and families who aren't connected to school are more likely to be those who are challenged by geography, poverty, language and disabilities.

What do we need to know?

- ❖ Does each family and student have an on-going, positive, and supportive relationship with one or more members of our staff?
- ❖ How to reach each student and their family?
- ❖ Do we have a plan for early outreach when absences start to add up?

Recognize that Going to School Reflects When Families Have...

Evidence-Based Programs

Relational Home Visits

- ✓ Goal is to create positive relationship between educators and parents before any issues arise.
- ✓ Example of model program: Parent Teacher Home Visits

3. Clear expectations & communication about attendance

What do families of chronically absent students understand about attendance?

- ✓ Families generally underestimate the number of days their child has missed
- ✓ Families believe their child is absent less or the same amount as other students
- ✓ Families believe missing a couple days of school a month is not problematic

MY CHILD'S ATTENDANCE SUCCESS PLAN

POSSIBLE STRATEGIES TO REACH MY CHILD'S ATTENDANCE GOALS

- I will talk to my child about how going to school every day will help them do well in school and achieve their hopes and dreams.
- I will keep an attendance chart at home. At the end of the week, I will recognize my child for attending school every day with _____.
- I will make sure my child is in bed by _____ a.m. and the alarm clock is set for _____ a.m.
- If my child complains of a headache or headache, and medical resources have been ruled out, I will make sure to call the school nurse and call _____ to that he/she can check in with my child during the day.

Create a Communications Plan

Does our district have a centralized and comprehensive communications strategy around attendance and participation?

- ❖ Communications are targeted and accessible to diverse stakeholders (e.g., families, students, etc.)
- ❖ Create a year-long communications plan and calendar for timely, accessible communications about school operations, class schedules, available resources with provisions for modifying as needed.
- ❖ Establish protocols to maintain two-way communication with families and with staff.
- ❖ Make sure families are informed in home language when students are absent or not participating in distance learning.

Developing a Communications Plan

Strategies for Connecting with Students & Families: <https://www.attendanceworks.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/06/Strategies-for-Connecting-with-Students-and-Families-rev-8-27-20.pdf>

Poll

Which of the following strategies for communicating with families about attendance do you already implement?

- Approach the conversation with concern and optimism rather than criticism.
- Ask questions to better understand the situation, and then work together for a solution.
- Assume the best. Almost all families want their child to be in school, but many don't understand the connection between too many absences and poor achievement. Assume that once they know better, they will do better.
- Be specific about the number of days missed and the impact on academics.

Help Your Child Succeed in Elementary School: Build the Habit of Good Attendance

DID YOU KNOW?

- Participation in early education programs, like preschool and Head Start, lead to better attendance in kindergarten.
- Starting in kindergarten, missing 10% of school (or just 2 days every month) can make it harder to learn to read and cause children to fall behind in school.
- Good attendance, whether class is held in person or remotely, can help children do well in school, and eventually in the workplace and in college.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Communicate with the School

- Contact your child's teacher(s) and let them know how to reach you.
- Get and post your child's class schedule and log in information on the refrigerator or your child's desk.
- Practice logging in to virtual classes and make a plan for supporting learning for children. Contact the school if you need help logging in.
- Ask about the school's attendance policy.

Make School Attendance a Priority

- Establish routines for bedtime, waking up and showing up for class.
- Identify a quiet place for your child to do school work. If you have multiple children, make a schedule. Or ask your school or community agencies if they have created places for distance learning, or if noise-canceling headphones are available for students.
- Develop back-up plans for getting your child to school or logging in to the computer if you can't be there to help. Find a family member, neighbor or older child who can help over the phone or who can help while wearing a mask and maintaining physical distance. Community-based organizations might also be able to help.
- When school is in session, avoid extended family trips and non-urgent medical appointments.
- Ask your child's teacher about attendance and tell the teacher any concerns you have.

Help Your Child Stay Healthy and Engaged

- Monitor your child's attendance and participation, and contact the teacher to address any concerns.
- Make sure your child gets the flu vaccine and other required shots.
- Find out if your child feels safe from bullies. Make sure that school discipline policies don't lead to your child becoming disengaged or pushed out of school. If these are problems, work with your school to find a solution.
- If your child seems bored or anxious about school, talk to teachers, school counselors, or other parents for advice on how to make them feel comfortable and excited about learning.
- Ask for help when you need it. School staff, after-school program providers, and other parents or community agencies are available to help families access online learning, obtain food or housing and address other experiences that make it difficult to attend and participate.

How to Use the Attendance Playbook

The Guide to the Attendance Playbook offers practical tips for:

- Forming a team
- Using attendance data to determine the number of strategies
- Analyzing why students are absent and selecting strategies that address those reasons
- Realistically assessing your team's capacity to implement each strategy
- Selecting strategies that are likely to have the greatest impact for the lowest effort
- Making an implementation plan
- Assessing how well the strategies worked
